NORTH DAKOTA IN BEST SHAPE MEYER ASSERTS

War Finance Corporation Director Astonishes Bankers in Iowa By Statement

GIVES N. D. THE PALM

Declares Financial Stringency Aided Rather Than Hurt North Dakota

Fargo, N. D., Nov. 8.—North Dakota banks have asked for two and a half million dollars from the War Finance Corporation up to and including the end of the first week in November, according to the statement of E. J. Weiser, chairman of the North Dakota committee assisting in handling the money of the Corporation. Money is awarded upon the loans within six days of the time the requests leave the Minneapolis office or headquarters for Washington, so Mr. Weiser is of the opinion that most of this money already is within the state.

Great efforts were made by Secretary Wallace of the National Department of Agriculture to make certain that the loans to agricultural sections should be handled expeditiously. Mr. Wallace, from his long residence in the middle of Iowa, and his frequent visits there since he took office, as well as to other sections of the middle West has made him very conversant with the need for immediate action for relief.

That other states of the middle west are in worse financial condition than North Dakota is the opinion of Eugene Meyer, Jr., chairman of the War Finance Corporation, as reported in the Des Moines Register of Saturday, November 6th. The article in the Register follows:

"Eugene Meyer, Jr., chairman of the War Finance Corporation, at a recent conference with Des Moines bankers, is reported to have made a statement which the bankers declare proves conclusively that external circumstances cannot be considered wholly responsible for the present plight of farmers. When asked which agricultural state in the middle west is in the best state, Mr. Meyer is said to have astonished the bankers by giving the palm to North Dakota. It had been supposed that the political turmoil centering in the activities of the nonpartisan league in North Dakota, and the financial stringency the state experienced in consequence have brought its farmers and business alike to the verge of insolvency. Exactly the contrary effect resulted from the so-called financial boycott. Mr. Meyer is reported to have said:

"What the financial stringency, did, the war finance chairman is reported to have declared, was to make North Dakota farmers stop spending and borrowing a full year before any like halt was made by the farmers in other middle western states. The result was that, when the bottom fell out of things, the net position of North Dakota was relatively good, despite the losses its farmers had suffered through having held wheat on a falling market.

"Grain Offsets Losses"

"What they lost through the wheat price crash they made up in substantial measure by the fact that, while they were holding their grain, they were not increasing their commitments or engaging in land speculation. In consequence, Mr. Meyer is credited with having said the position of the North Dakota farmers, as far as possession of quick assets to current liabilities goes, is vastly better than that of farmers in any other middle west state.

"Conversely, the present situation in Iowa is attributed in small degree to the fact that during the boom the state had no such difficulties to contend with as those which were thought to be badly hurting North Dakota. In Iowa, bankers point out, inflation and speculation continued in full career for months after deflation was well under way in the east. Readjustment difficulties now, they say, will necessarily be proportioned to the degree of unsoundness that marked the transactions of the inflation period. Another way in which the same point is made is by the statement that Iowa in the boom time was left too free of restrictions on borrowing and spending for its own good, and that its potential wealth was discounted to such an extent as to have been temporarily transformed from an asset into a liability. The inference is that sometimes for communities, as well as for individuals, easy credit is not an advantage.

PRES. KANE IN NEW ORLEANS

Grand Forks, N. D., Nov. 8.—President Thomas P. Kane of the University of North Dakota, is now at New Orleans, where he is to speak at the sessions of the Association of State Universities. His subject is "Uniform Methods of Calculating the Per Capita Cost of Education." The subject of the association has been working upon for years, in an effort to arrive at a basis which all schools will use in their cost accounting.

Enter Mill City Bank; Escape in Automobile Run by Fourth Bandit

Minneapolis, Nov. 8.—Three robbers entered the Republic State Bank today, drove officials and patrons in a vault and escaped with $15,000 in cash. They fled in an automobile kept ready by a fourth bandit. The bank is located on Hennepin avenue just at the edge of the downtown business district.

TRIBUTE WILL BE PAID HERE AT 11 O'CLOCK

Hour of Observance of Armistice Day is Changed at Request from Washington

TO BE SIMULTANEOUS

Silent Prayer to be at Same Time in all States as Burial in Arlington

The silent period of prayer Friday, Nov. 11, in honor of the hero dead of the World War will be at an hour simultaneous with the burial of the unknown soldier in Arlington cemetery. The time is 11 o'clock in Washington, 11 o'clock in Bismarck and 10 o'clock in Mandan.

A telegram from Secretary of State Hughes was received last night by Governor Frazier in which the Secretary conveyed the President's request that North Dakota observe the day and that the time of silent tribute be the same in every state in the union. The Legion committee which has charge of the program today changed the time for Bismarck.

The new program for the day follows:

Parade, or pilgrimage, will move at 10:15 a. m. sharp. Line of march will be announced later.

General assembly will be in Northern Pacific park. Space will be reserved for service men, school children and autos and for those who march in the parade.

At 11 o'clock the whistle will sound. Each person in the city is asked to bare his head, face the west and remain perfectly still until the second blast of the whistle announces the end of the two-minute period.

Speakers at Theaters

American Legion speakers will make addresses in the various theaters tonight, speaking directly after the first reel of the second show in each, explaining the plan of observance of Armistice Day and asking for cooperation of all people in the observance. G. H. Russ, Jr., will speak at the Eltinge, Frank Henry at the Rex, and P. G. Harrington at the Bismarck.

It is asked that all stores close not later than 11 o'clock. The Legion committee urges the further following reminder if all would pay this short tribute to the unknown dead.

"Those who do not join in the parade but watch from the sidewalk please remember the respect due the colors, when they pass you, stand at attention and uncover. That flag is representative of all the things that have been a part to the building of this great nation.

"Auto parties remember to stop your motors and when the whistle blows get out, stand with us, and pay a proper tribute to this unknown soldier, representative of all the soldier dead."

FOR PUBLICITY AT ARMS PARLEY

Washington, Nov. 8.—The American delegation to the armament conference was requested in a resolution, offered by Senator Harrison and adopted by the senate to use its influence for making public the record of proceedings and for admission of newspaper men to all meetings of the full conference.

COMMUNISTS IN ITALY BATTLE

London, Nov. 8.—Sharp fighting between Italian communists and extreme nationalists in which most of the combatants were wounded, some seriously, occurred near Novati, in Alessandria province, northwest Italy, yesterday, says a Central News dispatch from Rome today.

Revolver firing lasted a considerable time with many casualties.

ANTI-BEER BILL VOTE NOV. 18

Washington, Nov. 8.—An agreement to vote on Nov. 18 on the anti-beer bill was reached formally by the senate with the measure's supporters predicting its enactment with a large majority to spare.

BANK SOLVENCY HELD IMPORTANT MATTER IN SUIT

Attorneys on Both Sides in Jamestown Suit Suggest It Be Determined

COURT HEARS ARGUMENTS

District Judge Coffey Makes Return to High Court on Order to Show Cause

TEST BOND CONTRACT

Notice of commencement of suit in the Burleigh county district court in an effort to have the bond sale contract of the Bank of North Dakota declared illegal has been served by A. J. Gronna, Alex. Currie, Norman Morrison, J. M. Kelly, Charles Peterson, John Thiell and C. H. Olson, the taxpayers ask Judge Nueve to restrain the industrial commission from completing the contract with Spitzer, Norick and Company. Judge Nueve refused to issue a restraining order but issued an order to show cause on November 9 why the contract should not be set aside.

Attorney General Lemke will review the suit. He declared today the bonds were sold to the Bank of North Dakota at par and the bank sold them at the discount, and that bond attorneys had approved the arrangements before it was made.

Suggestion that the supreme court take steps to ascertain the solvency of the Bank of North Dakota was advanced by counsel on both sides in the hearing before the court today on the question of the order of Judge Coffey in district court at Jamestown holding the bank insolvent and restraining it from accepting deposits. The order was dissolved by the supreme court.

Ormsby McHarg, attorney for taxpayers, suggested that the matter should be referred to District Judge Coffey for hearing and decision on the question of solvency or insolvency, or the court could name a referee to take testimony.

Attorney General William Lemke, representing the state, said he believed the question of the solvency or insolvency should be determined, as a banking institution cannot continually be under attack, and suggested one judge or a referee hear the matter.

Judge Robinson, after these suggestions, interposed the remarks that new officers would take charge of the bank within 30 days, officers who are adverse to the present management, and that the court ought not to take any hand in the matter.

"Conspiracy of Silence"

Charging that there has been a "conspiracy of silence" upon the part of officers of North Dakota controlling affairs of the Bank of North Dakota and other funds, Mr. McHarg declared:

"Nobody knows in this state today just what the conditions are—I have pleaded to the best of my knowledge as a taxpayer upon the best information I could secure from officers of this state whose duty it is to give me information," he said, "and I have alleged a conspiracy of silence existed as to affairs."

In detailing the motives which animated taxpayers in so-called "amateur" efforts to take over the bank, Mr. McHarg declared that the bank had not been handled in accordance with law and had not been protected in that they had been placed in the insolvent Bank of North Dakota. Mr. McHarg declares plaintiffs spoke for school children of this state or, "if you please, for protection of unborn generations of this state for whom these funds must be kept inviolate."

Coffey Makes Return

District Judge Coffey, in making return to the court's order to show why its dissolution of the injunction order should not be made permanent, declared he had told Attorney General Lemke he could have a hearing before the district court on a motion by Lemke to vacate the order. His statement was denied as false by Mr. Lemke in a statement to the court.

F. E. McCurdy appeared for Treasurer John Stoen asking that the case be remanded to district court for trial on 4/4 merits.

Attorney General Lemke, in referring to the motion, declared it appeared to be contradictory and he was unable to determine which side the treasurer was on. E. B. Cox was in court as representative for State Superintendent Minnie J. Nielson and Secretary of State Thomas Hall who filed a motion to quash.

The Jamestown case should have been brought in Burleigh county. Attorney General Lemke contended. He declared that under the law all such actions must be brought in this county. He characterized the suit as a "fishing expedition," a political law suit and declared it was not brought in good faith.

REPRESENTATIVES ARE APPOINTED

A representative of each district in the Methodist church in the state has been appointed to attend a representative conference of the church to be held at Detroit, Mich., November 13th. The North Dakota representatives are: Bismarck district, J. D. Smith; Fargo district, W. C. Hodgson; Grand Forks district, C. L. Wallace; Minot district, W. P. Jinnet.

CABINET TAKES UP MATTER OF POSTAL THEFTS

Washington, Nov. 8.—Means of bringing an end to the ways of postal robberies throughout the country were discussed today by President Harding and his cabinet and it was indicated after the meeting that Postmaster General Hays probably would have a statement to make in the near future on the subject.

WESTERN RAIL LINES ASK PAY CUT OF 10 PCT.

Northern Pacific Included in Roads Which Decide to Press Reductions

INCLUDES ALL BRANCHES

Will Be Brought to Attention of Railroad Labor Board Immediately, It Is Said

Chicago, Nov. 8.—Managers of the western group of railroads met here yesterday and decided upon the immediate serving of notices of wage reductions of 10 per cent, according to an announcement today. The roads represented at the meeting include the Santa Fe, Great Western, Rock Island, Northern Pacific and Great Northern.

In the proposed cut all departments will be affected and committees were appointed to draft the notices immediately so that the roads may go before the labor board and ask an early hearing.

The labor board has announced that wage reduction questions will not be considered until after it has passed on working rules and schedules but the roads decided to press their wage reduction efforts so that these might be brought to the attention of the board immediately, it was said.

Settlement of the railroad strike was voted by the railroad brotherhoods for Oct. 30, following a statement by the railroads that wage reductions would not be passed upon until after questions regarding rules and working conditions had been decided.

6 ARE KILLED DURING FIGHT AT THE POLLS

Kentuckians Engage in Fight Over Election From Which Six Deaths Result

SPECIAL TRAIN IS SENT

Jackson, Ky., Nov. 8.—Six men were killed and five others were wounded in an election fight shortly after the polls opened at Clayhatch, Breathitt county, about 15 miles from here today.

The dead are: Cleveland Combs, 35; Leslie Combs, 37; Echem Allen, 35; George Allen, 31; John Roberts, 30; George McIntosh, 30.

The wounded are: William Barnett, 50; Ed. Davis, 36; Will Davis, 30; French Combs, 33; Tom McIntosh, 30.

A special train has been sent from Jackson with physicians to attend the wounded.

The story of the affray as it reached Jackson was to the effect that Ed Combs, an uncle of the Combs boys and defeated Democratic candidate in the Aug. primary for county judge, was active in support of the Republican nominee for the same office. Combs, it was said, entered the polling place today and attempted to give orders to the election officers. His relatives according to the story remonstrated with him and out of the argument grew a fight in which pistols were drawn and the shooting became general.

U. S.-CANADIAN OFFICERS JOIN THREE KILLED IN AUTO SPILL

Washington, Nov. 8.—American prohibition officials and Canadian officials have entered into a "gentlemen's agreement" designed to reduce smuggling of liquor across the border to a minimum, it was announced today at federal prohibition headquarters.

SUCCESSOR TO NESTOS NAMED

Minot, N. D., Nov. 8.—Vernon E. Steenerson has been appointed by State's Attorney O. B. Herkstad to succeed Governor-elect R. A. Nestos as assistant state's attorney of Ward county. Mr. Nestos resigned the position when he decided to make the race for governor in the recall election.

Mr. Steenerson, who is one of Minot's most active citizens, will assume office at once.

TEN HIGHWAYMEN HOLD UP CHICAGO-NEW ORLEANS LIMITED NEAR PAXTON

Burn Mail Car After Hand to Hand Battle in Which Dynamite, Bombs and Flaming Torches Play Part. No Estimate of Value of Loot Secured But Everything Not Taken Was Burned. Passengers Assist in Battle, None Are Wounded. Train Crew Only Receive Bullet Wounds.

Chicago, Nov. 8.—E. A. Germer, chief postal inspector at noon announced that the loot obtained by six robbers who held up an Illinois Central train near Paxton, Ill., last night fought a 45-minute battle with the train crew and passengers, wounding five men, dynamited and burned the mail car, will total approximately $400.

"They got two pouches of registered mail and overlooked two others," Mr. Germer said.

"One of those overlooked" he said, "had contained $100,000." In the two they took, Mr. Germer added "there was nothing but the ordinary run of registered letters—no bank shipments or other packages of especial value. It will take a week to see each individual sender and check up the exact loss but I estimate it at about $400."

Paxton, Ill., Nov. 8.—Officials were searching today for ten bandits who held up and robbed the Chicago-New Orleans limited of the Illinois Central near here last evening, wounding four train employees, stealing two pouches of registered mail and setting fire to the mail car. No clue to the men had been found today and the battle with the highwaymen was one of the most spectacular in the annals of train robberies.

PASSENGERS NOT MOLESTED

The passengers were not molested although one got three bullet holes in his coat when he and three other passengers fired on the bandits while they were fighting the train crew. A negro train porter was injured as he stood in the vestibule of the smoking car. He was seriously injured. One fireman was hit in the shoulder, a mail clerk was shot in the hand and another was clubbed over the head with a revolver.

Cover Train Crew

Two of the robbers boarded the Chicago-New Orleans flyer somewhere between Chicago and Paxton. They covered the crew according to rail officials as the train pulled out of Paxton. They ordered the train to proceed to a small bridge two miles south of here where the train was stopped so that the passengers could not come forward. The bandits then ordered the train crew to cut the train and the engineer was forced to pull the mail car up the track.

Eight More Robbers Appear

When a certain point was reached eight more bandits came out of hiding. Automobiles were parked near their hiding place. The robbers ordered the mail clerk to open the door, but it had been slammed tight and the guards inside prepared to give battle to the robbers.

Dynamite Used

Several charges of dynamite and flaming torches forced the door open and there ensued a hand to hand battle which only stopped after the robbers had thrown two more bombs into the car and overpowered the mail clerks and the train crew.

The registered mail was thrown out and the bandits escaped in their automobiles. Everything that was not taken was burned. The mail car was destroyed by fire.

Cutting out the ruins of the mail car, the train crew hooked up the train again and proceeded to Champaign where the injured were taken to a hospital.

TAX REVISION BILL FACES ITS FINAL PASSAGE

Senate Early Today Passed Bill By Vote of 38 to 24—Goes to Conference

THREE BILLION REVENUE

About Two Hundred Million Less Than the Present Law. Ready For Signing Soon

Washington, Nov. 8.—The tax revision bill now faces its final passage. The measure was passed by the senate early today by a vote of 38 to 24. This followed a continuous session lasting nearly sixteen hours. It will be returned to the house when that body reconvenes tomorrow. Republican leaders plan to send it once into conference Thursday. It may reach the president for his approval late in the month. The bill in its present form provides for $3,250,000,000 of revenue or about two hundred million less than the present law. It is urged by treasury officials that it is the least that the government can manage on to meet expenses of the government for the next fiscal period.

THANKSGIVING SERVICE PLAN

Thanksgiving services will be held by the Protestant churches of the city in the morning at 10:30 at the Evangelical Lutheran church. Rev. Halfyard will preach the sermon. Action favorable to holding union services was taken Monday at a meeting of the Bismarck Ministerial association.

It was announced that the Episcopal church would hold special services Armistice Day morning. Both morning and evening services will be held at the Evangelical Lutheran. Most of the churches of the city will keep open all day as requested by President Harding.

ULSTER KEY TO IRISH PEACE

London, Nov. 8.—Members of the Ulster cabinet have been summoned to London by their premier to consider a proposal made by the British government in connection with the Irish peace negotiations.

It would indicate that the peace conference was approaching a climax. The situation is frankly admitted. It is now critical. Success or failure rests with Ulster in the opinion of Sinn Fein delegates here who declare that their proposal to the British premier with respect to Ulster are liberal enough to effect a settlement if Ulster chooses.

LEGALITY OF BOND CONTRACT TO BE RAISED

Attorneys in "Jamestown Case" to Go Into Matter Before Supreme Court

STEEN IN NEW MOTION

Treasurer Asks Case Remanded to District Court For Interpretation of Law

The question of the legality of the bond sale contract entered into with a Toledo, Ohio, firm by the Industrial Commission of North Dakota will be involved in the hearing to be held before the supreme court here Tuesday in the "Jamestown case," according to Ormsby McHarg, one of the attorneys who instituted the action for taxpayers.

All questions raised concerning the bond sale, which include attacks on the legality of the contract, the powers of the Industrial Commission and its procedure in the matter, are to be covered in the suit, according to McHarg.

The "Jamestown case" is to be before the court on three actions, State Treasurer John Steen having added a new angle by asking that the case be remanded to the district court for trial to settle issues raised concerning powers of state boards. The supreme court directed District Judge Coffey, who issued the injunction declaring the Bank of North Dakota insolvent, to show cause why the supreme court's dissolution of his order should not be made permanent, and Secretary of State Thomas Hall and State Superintendent Minnie J. Nielson moved the court to vacate the order.

Treasurer Steen, through his own attorney, asked the supreme court to name a bank or banks in which he might deposit money, if the order of Judge Coffey is allowed to stand, he being required by law to deposit all state funds in the Bank of North Dakota.

Steen's Affidavit.
In an affidavit Mr. Steen said: "That as treasurer of the state of North Dakota large sums of public money come into his hands daily, averaging from $25,000 to $50,000, that the temporary injunction in the above entitled action issued by the district court of Stutsman county prevented him from depositing such funds and caused remittances to accumulate in his office so that it could not properly function and prevented him from properly performing the duties of treasurer of the state of North Dakota; and that nearly all remittances are made in the form of drafts and checks, which must be cashed immediately in order to prevent loss to the state, and that it is necessary that some drafts and commercial paper may be cashed and cleared in case said injunction should for any reason be restored to force and effect."

"That this affiant is concerned only about the necessity of carrying on the public business of the state of North Dakota as state treasurer and that he is very anxious that the state and public do not suffer or incur any loss by reason of said action."

Wants Law Interpreted.
"That as to the other matters raised by said complaint relating to the various causes of action, he is anxious to have them tried out and to have the laws interpreted by the court so that there will be no further question as to the meaning of the laws and as to the rights, liabilities and duties of the various state officers and boards under the law; and also to have determined if any of the state officers and boards have acted unlawfully and in violation of the law, and more particularly the acts of this affiant, and that his and their responsibility may be determined, and therefore asks the court that said action be remanded to the proper district court for trial and full investigation of each and all of the causes of action set out in the complaint."

The original complaint named many state officials, members of boards, with not having properly safeguarded the funds entrusted to them because they permitted them to be deposited in the Bank of North Dakota, an insolvent bank.

OVERLAND WINS HIGH FAVOR IN THE AUTO WORLD

"Watch Overland" is Word Passed Along Auto Row—Sales Increase Rapidly

Watch Overland is the word passing up and down automobile row in every motoring center in the United States.

There are two reasons for it. The automobile trade itself is watching Overland because of the remarkable sales achievement it has made in this year of readjustment. The public has a keen interest in Overland because the new policy established by John J. Willys just a few weeks ago permits the company to merchandise the best cars it has ever made at the lowest prices for which it has even been able to offer them to the public.

In the new distributing policy, the Overland has eliminated all but about 25 of its most efficient distributors. With the elimination of these distributors, dealers make contracts directly with the factory.

Remarkable instances of the strength of the Willys Overland sales organization is furnished in a report from the factory that all former distributors have cooperated with the company 100 per cent in the new sales program and have indicated their willingness to continue with the organization by taking direct dealer contracts rather than the wholesale contracts which heretofore they have had.

All things considered, this has been a remarkable year for Overland business. The manner in which inventories have been reduced, product improved, economies effected, new program inaugurated and general business revived, has been more than satisfactory and will enable the company next year to take full advantage of the big demand for its product. Of this, the company now has ample assurance.

For the full year of 1921 Willys Overland's output is expected to run close to the 60,000 car mark which must be regarded as genuine sales achievement in this year of adjustment and a figure which keeps the company in the front rank of the major American producers.

While domestic trade has been expanding, with September noted in the Willys Overland organization as one of the most successful retail September in the last four years, there has also been a notable increase in the company's export business.

During the first week of October more than 100 bona fide export orders were received and a factory building program was immediately prepared to ship these cars to foreign ports as promptly as possible.

Why Can't You, Too, Be Well and Strong?

Few of us realize how precious good health is until we begin to lose it. To be well is to enjoy life and make good times for those around us. To be constantly ailing is to miss life's pleasures and to look with envy upon our robust friends and neighbors.

Are you one of the unfortunates? Is your health slowly slipping away? It's time, then, you looked to your kidneys! Much sickness of today is traceable to kidney weakness. Its increase is alarming. That's because it's usually unseen or neglected. But it's easy to tell if your kidneys are weak. You may have only backache; a lameness, stiffness, or sharp stabbing pains; dizzy spells, headaches, or annoying bladder irregularities.

If you have these symptoms, suspect your kidneys! Remember that delay may result in serious kidney sickness. But why dwell on the dark picture? Rather think of the brighter side! To remedy such a weakness is to add years to your life and to regain the health and strength that enables you to enter life's daily battle with joy and enthusiasm.

If you're reason to suspect your kidneys, read the stories of these Bismarck people. They tell how they have won back good health through Doan's Kidney Pills, the world's best-recommended kidney remedy. Doan's have helped thousands. They should help you. Ask your neighbor!

"Use Doan's," Say These Bismarck Folks:

N. M. DANROT, carpenter, 511 7th St., N., says: "I had a bad spell of kidney trouble. My back never let up aching for several weeks and my kidneys were in bad shape and the secretions contained sediment. I felt all worn out and took several boxes of Doan's Kidney Pills and they did just as represented. After a day's treatment I was rid of the trouble. I have previously recommended Doan's and I am glad to again give my endorsement."

MRS. JACK KENTON, 417 Mandan Ave., says: "I had puffy eyes underneath my eyes and pains in my back. It was hard for me to do my housework at times. My kidneys acted irregularly, too. Three boxes of Doan's Kidney Pills cured me and I am glad to recommend Doan's, knowing them to be a remedy of wonderful merit for the cure they made for me has lasted several years."

TAPS TO BE SOUNDED ALL OVER U.S. ON ARMISTICE DAY—NATION TO HONOR ITS "UNKNOWN HERO"

Many North Dakota Towns Will Participate in Observance of Nov. 11

SERVICES IN BISMARCK

The sounding of taps, the notes of which form the last service alive a soldier dead, with its final message of farewell and good voyage will call the peoples of many towns and cities of North Dakota to attention next Friday, Armistice day, to pay tribute to the nation at large to the "unknown Soldier." While in some of the towns, the people will be assembled at the time the unknown body finds its last resting place near the beautiful marble coliseum in Arlington, in others the bugle will call them from the daily tasks or from other observance of the day. Fargo, where one of the most impressive memorials has been arranged, will have a relay of bugles to shrill forth the summons from business to residence district to call the entire city to attention. Practically every American Legion man in the state will take part in some way in this vasty planned tribute to one of his fallen comrades.

While the tribute to the unknown soldier will occupy its place in the morning program, the observance of Armistice Day, commemorating the ending of the world war, and prayers for the success of the Disarmament Conference in Washington both will have place in the thought of North Dakota towns and cities. In the towns and cities the programs, dinners and other observances of the day will last from morning until late in the evening. In several of the towns, legion men will speak to the school children of the meaning of the ending of the war, in many the churches will be open for prayers for the success of the disarmament program, and in others mass meetings of all the people will be held in honor of the day and the men who fought through seventeen and eighteen.

Following the observance of the tribute to the unknown soldier at Fargo, the city will participate in a big military parade. Officers of the various military units which North Dakota sent to the front will be the guests of the Fargo American Legion, and the city. The military units which will march in the parade are the Gilbert Grafton American Legion post of Fargo, Melvin D. Heall post of Moorhead, Minn., Company F, Minnesota National Guard, Women's Auxiliary of the American Legion, Company B Auxiliary, Agricultural College Cadets, veterans of the Grand Army of the Republic, Spanish-American War Veterans and Disabled War Veterans.

Fargo fraternal, educational and civic organizations are cooperating to make the observance of the day the one of the largest religious in the history of the city. Fraternal and educational institutions and the Boy Scouts will furnish five bands for the parade, while the women of the town will furnish dinner to the service men, both at noon and in the evening.

Grand Forks will begin its celebration of Armistice Day with a dinner to the ex-service men, of the army and navy Thursday evening. Five hundred men who wore uniforms during the world war will be present at this dinner and reunion. Fraternal and commercial organizations are joining with the legion men of the city in planning a parade for Friday afternoon and also for a short forum program at which local speakers will present American ideals in the parade, the military units cooperating are: American Legion post, Veterans of Foreign Wars, Disabled Veterans organization, East Grand Forks post, American Legion, and Veterans of the Spanish-American war.

Bismarck will open its observance of the day with patriotic exercises in the public schools at which members of the American Legion will be the speakers. After the exercises at the schools, the American Legion post will lead a short pilgrimage to the flag pole in Northern Pacific park where exercises in honor of the unknown soldier will be held at the same hour. The funeral cortege pauses by the grave in Arlington. The march to the park will be led by a fraternal band, followed by the Legion post in uniform, the school organizations and citizens.

Minot will hold its commemoration in a monster mass meeting in the high school auditorium at which a leading member of the North Dakota American Legion will be speaker, probably Major Hanley of Mandan. Music and patriotic addresses will complete the program, while at night the third annual American Legion ball will be held.

MOTHER, QUICK! GIVE
CALIFORNIA FIG SYRUP
FOR CHILD'S BOWELS

Even a sick child loves the "fruity" taste of "California Fig Syrup." If the little tongue is coated, or if your child is listless, cross, feverish, full of cold, or has colic, a teaspoonful will never fail to open the bowels. In a few hours you can see for yourself how thoroughly it works all the constipation poison, sour bile and waste from the tender, little bowels and gives you a well-played child again.

Millions of mothers keep "California Fig Syrup" handy. They know a teaspoonful today saves a sick child tomorrow. Ask your druggist for genuine "California Fig Syrup" which has directions for babies and children of all ages printed on bottles. Mother! You must say "California" or you may get an imitation fig syrup. Adv.

Something to Think About
By F. A. WALKER

WHAT CHILDREN READ

PEOPLE would not worry so much about what they call the "modern child," if they only stopped to think that fathers and mothers, uncles and aunts, of every generation had their doubts as to the new generation.

In fact, Adam and Eve were, in all probability, the only proud parents in all history who never said, "Children did not do such things when we were young."

The very latest discovery that has been made about the little boys and girls of America is that their taste in reading is quite different from that of their elders at the same age.

It appears that they are finding rather dull some of the things that appealed to the youngsters of former days, and are demanding more excitement than is good for them.

It is well, in thinking about such a subject, always to remember that older people have a weakness for considering any such change in taste as for the worse.

That is the complaint that maturity pays to itself.

The great trouble is that we don't remember what we really cared for when we were small.

Many of the things that we were supposed to enjoy we didn't really like until we grew up. Others that were forced on us for our good were spoiled for us forever.

Children have no sense of subtlety, or irony. This is natural.

They read "Alice in Wonderland," or "Gulliver's Travels," or "The Arabian Nights" for the straight story, not for any secondary meaning that is beyond them.

A clever American woman suggests that the children, especially in a big family, should be encouraged to write stories of wild adventure for each other.

This is not so impossible or far-fetched as it seems.

A good example came to light recently in the case of the children of Theodore Roosevelt.

That many-sided man was a child among his sons and daughters until the very last.

His letters to them, full of action as they are, and illustrated by himself, will last longer than anything else in the way of history or travels that he ever wrote.

From him and his youngsters, the woods and waters around Oyster Bay were delightfully mysterious, where anything might happen.

For children the world is still, and always will be, full of a number of things. The main thing is not to try to turn them into little men and women.

"What's in a Name?"
By MILDRED MARSHALL

Facts about your name, its history, meaning, whence it was derived, significance, your lucky day and lucky jewel.

ERNESTINE.

ERNESTINE has an origin of lofty dignity. She is one of the "Eagle" names. Like many of the feminine names connected with mythology, the eagle occupied a position of great respect and even adoration among the ancients, and his name, with various suffixes and prefixes, furnished many of the cognomens then in vogue.

In Scotland the word for eagle was "erne" and the name was found in all countries where there were mountains, the homeland of the king of birds. Arndur, or Arndur, was the first of the eagle ladies. She was said to be the daughter of Asbjorn, of the Hebrides, who was sold to an Icelandic named Katell Thymr. This lady had the good fortune to find a quantity of silver sufficient for her ransom beneath the roots of a tree, but she decided to remain the wife of Thymr and goes down in history as one of the famous women of Iceland.

The next step in the evolution of Ernestine was Arnthora, and later Anora, who was the wife of Bernard de St. Valery. Her name was carried into the family of Bruce by King John's victim, Maude de St. Valery, who called one of her daughters Anborn. The masculine Ernest, which preceded Ernestine directly, appeared first in Lombardy in the year 752 through Markgraf of Austria Ernst spread all over Germany after the Reformation, and it was Germany which finally formed the feminine Ernestine. Though still in great vogue there, it has of late years been contracted to Stine, or Thine, or sometimes Erna.

Bohemia calls her by elaborate Anostinka, but England and America took her over as Ernestine, and preserves her as such.

RECEPTION TO BE GIVEN FOR RETIRING MEN

Frazier, Lemke and Hagan To Be Guests at Reception at Patterson Hall

A reception to Governor Frazier and other outgoing state officials will be held in Bismarck on November 19 in Patterson hall. The affair will be under the auspices of the Burleigh county executive committee of the league.

The Bismarck Trades and Labor Assembly held a meeting last night and made plans to join in the reception. Resolutions were passed regretting the defeat of the league candidates in the election, and urging that petitions be prepared for laws to be voted on at the June primary providing for restoration of any part of the league program deemed necessary and urging the Nonpartisan league to wage a vigorous battle at the polls in the primary.

AT THE BISMARCK
Shirley Mason is due at the Bismarck Theatre tonight in her latest Fox photoplay "Ever Since Eve," which is an adaptation of Joseph Peat's story, "Concerning Chichine," which was published in Young's Magazine. The engagement here is for tonight and tomorrow.

The story is a love romance, pure and simple. Its interest is confined to this theme, but there are some sensational moments, such as a water rescue and an element of mystery in the final scenes which gives rise to much amusement.

Howard M. Mitchell who has directed nearly all of Miss Mason's work for Fox, acted as director for this picture. The leading man is Herbert Hayes, who has appeared in a number of Fox pictures. Also in the cast are Eva Gordon, Mrs. Vin Moore, Charles Spere, Francis Hancock, Ethel Lynn and Louis King.

According to report, the picture has proved a success wherever shown.

THOMAS MEIGHAN AT THE ELTINGE

There's a "Main Street," that runs through "Canaan," the mythical city which Tarkington wrote about in "The Conquest of Canaan." In Canaan were some who were respectable and others who were not. Once you were placed in the latter class, it was next to impossible to live down the disgrace.

Here, the respectables looked up to Judge Pike as their leader. His word was law. The unrespectable accepted him because they knew that he owned their homes, their schools and had their lives in the hollow of his hand. As the title suggests, Main Street in Canaan was conquered and by two of the unrespectables, Joe Louden and Ariel Taber. Ariel was fortunate enough to inherit money which took her to Paris. Joe could not bring himself to conform with the Main Street conventions which aroused such prejudice within him that he was forced to leave town to carve out a better career.

the Eltinge theater, tonight, Thomas Meighan, as Joe Louden, stars in the picture and Doris Kenyon in the role of Ariel Taber plays the leading feminine part.

STOCKGROWERS FINANCE BODY WILL CONTINUE

Has Approved Loans Amounting to $78,000 for Stockmen in the State

TAKES OVER OTHER PAPER

The North Dakota committee of the Stockgrowers Finance Corporation has approved loans and loans have been made in the amount of $78,000 to North Dakota stockmen, J. L. Bell, chairman of the North Dakota committee, said today.

In addition the corporation has taken over from former holders about $140,000 worth of North Dakota livestock paper and the North Dakota committee now has in its hands for examination loan papers aggregating $218,000.

The Stockgrowers Finance Corporation, which was formed in Chicago to handle a livestock pool of $50,000,000 to aid western growers, appointed a North Dakota committee composed of Mr. Bell, J. E. Phelan and T. O. Tolleson. Many applications for loans have been received by the committee.

The Stockgrowers Finance Corporation expects to continue its work as it does not necessarily conflict with the War Finance Corporation loans, Mr. Bell said. The corporation's policy is liberal and it is hoped that material assistance can be rendered to the livestock industry, he said.

ORDERS WATER MAIN INSTALLED

Railroad Commission Acts On Local Petitioners' Request

The state railroad commission has ordered the Bismarck Water Supply company to install a six-inch water main extension on Eleventh street from Avenue B to Avenue D inclusive. In its finding the commission says:

The commission having taken into consideration all the evidence in this case, and being fully advised in the premises, is of the opinion and finds that the demands for domestic service of the petitioners are such as to warrant the installation, at the company's expense, of a six inch water main extension on Eleventh Street from Avenue B to Avenue D inclusive. In the order to follow, the commission will require that the Bismarck Water Supply company have this extension completed and ready for service not later than July 1, 1922, provided, however, that in the event that the Bismarck Water Supply company, which seeks to annul the charter and is now pending in the district court, be decided against the Bismarck Water Supply company, the company may appeal to the commission for a modification of this order. The company will further be required to notify the commission on the day that work is begun on the extension, and also the date of completion of same.

BOOSTS HANLEY AS LEGION HEAD

Joseph A. Kitchen Sees Him in Line For Commander at Next Convention

Judge J. M. Hanley, of Mandan, is in line for the post of commander of the American Legion next year, in the opinion of Joseph A. Kitchen, recently elected Commissioner of Agriculture and Labor, who attended the legion convention in Kansas City.

"The choice simmered down at this convention to MacNider, of Iowa, and Judge Hanley," said Mr. Kitchen, "and Judge Hanley stepped aside for Mr. MacNider. There was a big sentiment for Judge Hanley, although more publicity was given to the efforts of the southwestern candidates. The new commander, Mr. MacNider, is favorably disposed toward North Dakota and has many friends in the North Dakota delegation."

Mr. Kitchen, stopping in Bismarck for a conference on his way to Fargo, received and accepted an invitation to deliver an address at Beach on Armistice Day.

DISTRIBUTE YOUR BUYING

This, Says Ida Tarbell, Would Help Unemployment Situation.

(By Ruth Agnes Abeling)
New York, Nov. 8.—If you could go with me evening after evening through Central Park you'd see—Ida Tarbell paused. Her cool gray eyes narrowed. The rather thin, firm line of her lips contrasted slightly. You'd see with more depth in her tone "men—old men, young men, scarcely more than boys—gathering in newspapers to sleep under in the park. As the evenings have become chill they have doubled their diligence. Not a paper escapes."

She was silent a moment again. Thinking Then—
"And men don't sleep out at night under newspapers if they can get work."

"That," said Miss Tarbell "is how serious our unemployment question is. The whole situation from end to end, should be put before the American people in plain English, so that every one can understand."

Miss Tarbell was very much in earnest. Straight and tall she is, even when sitting. Someone who dares a ruffle here a bit of lace there, a ribbon somewhere else, even a colorful corsage and a black band at her neck to bring out the lines of her small, well-shaped head.

"Unemployment," said Miss Tarbell, "is a disease."

"There's nothing the matter with us, or we wouldn't have it. If it was typhoid spreading to hundreds over night, we'd know all about it soon enough."

"And when a big factory lays off hundreds of men in one day," her words were coming with conviction, "it is just as much danger to our social health as typhoid would be to our physical health."

"Unemployment is more than statistics. It is a mass of human unhappiness. Why, what becomes of all of the people who come over here to work and then are discharged during a dull season?" she asked suddenly. "We don't know!"

"I think it's time for us to find out! There should be established a sort of industrial barometer which would keep tab on conditions all over the country and try to keep a level. Instead of this buying of extra machinery during busy times and putting double forces to work and then suddenly closing during a dull season there should be an even distribution. There is probably no industry which suffers more from seasonal work than mining. At the peak of coal demand, great forces of men are put on. A few months later over half of them perhaps nearly all of them, are idle."

"If the public would think—if it would distribute its buying instead of always waiting for pressure, don't you see, that it would mean an even amount of work all of the time?" "It is very serious business," said Miss Tarbell, "something which every one of us can well afford to take to heart."

REGAN TO HOLD CELEBRATION NOVEMBER 11; EVERYONE INVITED

In the town of Regan on Nov. 11, beginning at 10 o'clock a. m., there will be an Armistice Day celebration in the form of a Teachers' Association and Educational Rally as the most fitting form of celebrating this patriotic holiday. On that day in the city of Washington, D. C., delegates from all nations will convene to consider ways and means of averting the cataclysm of future wars. Whatever plans may be evolved at that conference must be supplemented by an educational revival all over the world. North Dakota is a candidate for leadership in the crusade for world peace. Regan is not a slacker. Regan assures us that no efforts will be spared to make our meeting a success. Let all friends of education and a better school system come to Regan. If everybody who comes will bring along some eatables, we will have a picnic or community dinner at 12 m.

The following program will be rendered:
Music, community singing.
Welcome Address, Prof. Lester E. Foote.
Response, Mrs. Agnes Gray.
Aesthetic Starvation, Edna Renfrow.
Music, Mrs. Elizabeth Lind.
Music, Supplied by Committee on Music.
The Relation of the School Board to the Successful School, Mrs. Knowlton of Regan School Board.
A Little Nonsense Now and Then, M. P. Parker.
The State "In Loco Parentis," Supt. W. E. Parsons.
The Teachers Intangible Rewards, Madge King.
Address by State Superintendent, Minnie J. Neilson.
Owing to the difficulties under which the program committee worked, the above program is subject to modification.

FARGO SLASHES CITY EXPENSES

Cuts Out White Way Lights To Meet Budget Decrease

Fargo, N. D., Nov. 8.—With the single exception of the top light on each cluster of five, Fargo was in darkness Saturday night, as the result of an enforced economy program as the result of the state supreme court decision holding the limitations tax constitutional. The city commission announced that the fire and police departments will immediately be cut 25 per cent; salaries of all city officials and employees of all kinds will be cut 10 per cent at once, and salaries of city commissioners will be sliced 25 per cent.

The city will dispense with the services of the building inspector and city sanitary officer. Garbage will no longer be collected, individuals being forced to make their own arrangements for collection.

No snow will be removed from the city streets during the winter, and no funds will be available for the board of education election next year.

All insurance policies on city property will be permitted to lapse, as no funds will be available for premiums. There will be no street repairs or public improvements.

The public library will be closed except for two or possibly three days each week.

Following an all-day session, the commissioners succeeded in cutting its annual budget from $404,000 to $282,000. The result of economies leaves the city with but the skeleton of municipal government, commissioners claim.

Police said tonight a dark city means more crime.

Ellendale, N. D., Nov. 8.—Dr. A. J. Perisho, who formerly was president of the North Dakota Agricultural college was a recent visitor at the State Normal and Industrial School here and delivered an address to the students. Since leaving the state Dr. Perisho has traveled extensively and has just returned from an investigation of European conditions. He is at present concluding a long tour of the western states as a lecturer. His address here was to the young people, urging them to prepare themselves that they might be capable of meeting the great problems that will evolve from present world conditions, problems which will require wide understanding and sympathy to meet.

CHARGE EDITOR WITH VIOLATING RED FLAG LAW

Bowbells, N. D., Nov. 8.—One of the most interesting developments of the election in Burke county, which turned towards the independent column by more than 300 votes over last year, was when Leo Mahoney and Dr. C. J. King of Columbus were arrested to violation of the new red flag law.

Mr. Mahoney is the editor of the Columbus Reporter, in which he has always strongly advocated independent principles. After learning the Nonpartisan forces had been defeated, the elated editor, who had been taken to task many times for his attitude, with Dr. King, prepared three mounds of dirt near the Registrar office which represented the graves of Frazier, LaMke, and Hagan. At the foot of the mounds he placed a red flag with a dummy supposed to represent the editor of the Nonpartisan newspaper at Bowbells and a sign bearing the inscription, "Star is the only mourner left." Upon seeing the display, a complaint was sworn out by some of the Nonpartisans, and a warrant was issued for the arrest of Mahoney and King. They were brought to the county seat to answer to the charge, which was granted, and the case is set for next Tuesday to be heard before Judge Lowe.

WILL HOUSE 50 GIRLS

Dickinson, N. D., Nov. 8.—Work on the new dormitory of the state normal school is progressing rapidly and it is expected that the building will be ready for occupancy soon after the first of the year. The dormitory will house fifty girls. The water mains of the city here being extended five blocks to connect with the new building.

REVOLT MAY PUT MANUEL BACK

As a result of the monarchist rebellion in Portugal, ex-King Manuel may regain the throne.

Manuel, who is now 32, has been living with his mother in England, since the revolution of 1910, when he fled the country. He has been on the throne less than two years, having succeeded in 1908, when his father, King Carlos, and his elder brother were assassinated.

Manuel's reign was dotted with love affairs said to have been the real cause of his downfall. His affair with Gaby Deslys, noted dancer, gained him world-wide notoriety. After abdication he married Princess Augustine Victoria of Hohenzollern. Her father, Prince William, is a cousin of the ex-kaiser.

SYRUP PEPSIN IN OLD AGE

Much used by elderly people for constipation, biliousness, headache, etc.

MANY men and women, as they grow older, suffer constantly from little ills. The cause is the poisons produced by chronic constipation, resulting in headache, depression, bloating, sour stomach, bad breath, etc. A single bottle of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin will prove to you that you can so regulate yourself that elimination will occur promptly every day. Increased doses are not necessary. It is a combination of Egyptian Senna and others simple laxative herbs with pepsin. The cost is only about a cent a dose.

In spite of the fact that Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin has been on the market 30 years and is today the largest selling liquid laxative in the world, the formula has never been improved upon. It is sold in bottles for you to use in salarials, calomel, cool tea and such drastic purgatives.

Half-Ounce Bottle Free

For escape constipation, you can get a bottle of this medicine. It is the only one of its kind. You can get it at any drug store. It is sold in bottles for you to use in salarials, calomel, cool tea and such drastic purgatives.

BONUS RIDER EFFORT LOSES

Washington, Nov. 8.—Another effort to right the soldiers' bonus bill into the tax revision measure failed today, the senate rejecting 42 to 29, the Simmons amendment proposing to pay the bonus out of the interest on the foreign debt. Six Republicans supported the Simmons amendment and one Democrat, Myers, Montana, voted against it.

The Republicans were Capper, Johnson, Kenyon, Ladd, LaFollette and Norris.

RAIN OR SHINE
Wallace Morris, pride of the postoffice at Washington, D. C., has been a letter carrier since 1879. At 63, he daily climbs 2400 steps and walks 17 miles, carrying a 50-pound pouch of mail. He many of you other elderly men could do that? Few.

Few of us appreciate that bearer of joys and sorrows—the postman. Rain or shine, he is on the job. Without him, families would drift apart, friends would become forgotten when separated, and business would slow down to a snail's pace.

Next to the tramp of a returning victorious army or the slow and cautious thud of circus-parade elephants, there is no footsteps as alluring as the postman's.

The whole world awaits his coming—eager lovers, anxious mothers, hopeful business men, worried venturers, cornered conspirators, despairing failures. For the postman tells your fate, better than gypsy palmists or ouija boards.

Wise old Ben Franklin in 1775 negotiated the transfer of the postoffice from private to government ownership.

It was not until 1840 that Sir Rowland Hill, Englishman, invented the postage stamp, adopted seven years later by the United States.

Free mail delivery and collections from letter boxes are commonplace, yet they originated within the memory of many now living. They were originated and put into operation in 1863 by Joseph William Briggs, then a window delivery clerk in the postoffice of Cleveland, Ohio. A bronze memorial to him will be placed in the Cleveland postoffice by the Ohio Society of New York. Honor him as one of the unknown many who gave us our daily comforts.

Considerable progress has been made since Jan. 22, 1873, when America's first mail carrier left New York for Boston with a single letter, making the trip in the record time of two weeks.

To grasp that progress, also the intricacy of our form of civilization, remember that the American postoffice handles 18,000,000,000 letters a year. Hats off to the carriers.

SPENDING
Boston leads the 10 largest cities in municipal extravagance. She spends at the rate of $35.06 a year for every resident—men, women and children.

That compares with Pittsburg's rate of $29.81, New York $28.34, Los Angeles $26.62, Philadelphia $24.55, St. Louis $23.37, Chicago $22.52, Detroit $21.13, Cleveland $20.96, Baltimore $15.96.

These figures, compiled by the National Security League, show that budgets are needed just as much by cities as by the national government. The 10 leading cities are spending at a rate-per-resident about half as much as the national government, though they have no war debt to carry.

WORK-WOMEN
The Massachusetts Minimum Wage Commission says a working girl has to have $13.50 a week for living expenses. The budget, by which this figure is arrived at, includes 20 cents a week for vacation and 20 cents a week for laundry.
That would give a girl $10.40 for her yearly vacation. And 20 cents a week wouldn't go far on a laundry bill. Minimum wage, is right!

RAILROADS
About 300,000 trained railroad workers are idle in the United States, says Dr. Julius Parmler, director of the Bureau of Railway Economics. Those working total 1,700,000.
Three in every 20 are idle. That probably is the most accurate figure on national unemployment, for freight movement is a good general barometer.

DRESS
There never was a time that women dressed so sensibly as in 1921, says President Murlin of Boston University.
Your first thought is: What office is he running for?
But Murlin apparently has no political ambitions. He is just an analytical scientist and psychologist. He attributes women's extreme fashions to their living in the Jazz Age—jazz in clothes, music, society, home, education, art, literature.
That is a natural reaction from the war. We are all so glad the war is over, that we are jazzi-capering about in glee. Rejoicing will cease as the world discovers that it has to toil to carry the war debt. Jazz will die, normalcy return. Date? About 1926.

GUARD
The authorized strength of the national guard is 215,397. Membership campaigns so far have enlisted only 126,000 officers and privates.
Until the world disarms, we shall need a reserve army, the national guard. There is an opening awaiting you, if you care to join.

FASHIONS
By next summer, half the men will be wearing knee pants. This dreadful warning is spread broadcast in Chicago at the fall exhibition of the United National Clothiers' Association.
Does this mean that suits bought recently are going to shrink that much?

KICK
Raw juice from sauerkraut, shaken up with ice, makes a cocktail with a real kick, says George E. Wolf, president of Chicago hotelmen.
The chief difficulty of prohibition is that Mother Nature turns almost every kind of food into alcohol, if you catch it at the right moment. Candy fiends pathologically are mild forms of drunkards, though they rarely know it.

USELESS
What is an education worth? In Boston, Edward B. Batash, a Syrian youth, speaks six languages fluently but is unable to get a job.
His plight is a lot like that of the average college graduate who has not specialized: He knows too much that cannot be turned into cash. Get a practical education first. After that, if you have time, become cultured and versatile.

PREPARING
Was the steel industry over-built during the war? Has it more mills and equipment than peace-time demand can keep busy? U. S. Steel Corporation does not think so. It will spend $10,000,000 on new plants.
Authorities disagree about when the next boom will start. But the ablest business men believe that we are in for a great period of prosperity, possibly the greatest ever, when it finally gets started. Regarding prosperity, the country at present is not participating but it is preparing.

OPIUM
Hsuan-Tung, the boy emperor, was ousted from the Chinese throne in 1912. His mother, the Princess Chin, commits suicide by taking opium. She was disappointed because of the proposed marriage of her ex-emperor son with the daughter of President Hsu Shi-chang. That is the rumor, probably correct.
With the ex-kaizer weeding his own garden, and in China an ex-emperor scheduled to marry the daughter of a republican president, royalty certainly is on the toboggan.

HANDICAP
Machinists, ahoy! Gerald Ensing, blind since childhood, won a Red Cross scholarship in the University of Michigan. In the college engineering shops he daily runs lathes, planers, shapers, grinders and drill presses. He reads a micrometer accurately and soon will be a tool maker. His eyes are in his fingers.
Watching Ensing move about his machines and all over the shops, you would wonder how he dodges accidents such as clothes caught in machinery. The answer is obvious—constant individual caution. That's real Safety First. Without it, automatic safeguards are not of much value. Play safe!

THE AGE OF MARRIAGE
The New York Sun has gathered statistics for New York which show that in that city the average age of marriage for both men and women is the same as in 1911. The average man, the statistics show, marries at 28, and the average woman at 24.
Out of a representative group of fifty couples in 1911 three women were older than their husbands, four women were of the same age as their husbands, and the other forty-three women were younger than their mates. Three of the group were ten or more years younger than their husbands. Of fifty couples of 1921, six women were older than the men they married and five were the same age.

Italians marry youngest, according to the figures, while Jews marry at the most advanced age. Various Southern European races in New York show tendencies toward marriage at an early age, while most native-born Americans marry at the average age.
The tendency among the less fore-handed peoples is, of course, to marry young without regard for ability to support a wife. There is among other peoples a tendency to wait to marry until the husband is approaching financial independence or until he has a business or a position which will enable him to afford comforts and luxuries.—Des Moines Register.

THE DOUGHBOY
(Florence Borner.)
When Uncle Sammy needed men,
The Doughboy answered: "Here."
And quickly left his other work,
To save our flag, so dear;
For, if he hadn't, don't you see,
We could not boast of liberty.
Wherever Duty calls, he's there,
Beliant, proud to serve,
The country that he loves so well,
Her freedom to preserve;
And, gladly he will risk his life,
At time of battle's din and strife.

He is the guardian of our peace,
Preserver of our law,
A better scrapper ne'er was seen—
He kills the world with awe;
For when he fights, he's in to stay,
Until no victor of the fray.

Doughboys—God bless them, every one,
They are our hope and pride;
The saviors of a real-world peace
They turned the tide aside,
And brought an end to that great war,
Which like was never seen before.

Heroic lads, we hope at last,
That cruel wars are o'er;
That we shall never hear again,
The cannon's fearful roar;
But, we will ever love you, sons,
Because of those brave deeds you've done.

WHAT PAPERS ARE SAYING ABOUT THE RECALL

UNLIMITED POWERS.
(Grand Forks Herald.)
One may well wonder just what comfort the league forces are getting out of the defeat of the proposed constitutional amendment and statutes submitted by petition at the late election. The defeat of these measures is due to the fact that practically all of the administration supporters voted against them while several thousand of those who voted for the independent candidates did not take the trouble to vote on the law at all. If a similar proportion of the leaguers had been negligent in their voting the laws would have been passed by majorities only slightly less than those given the three independent candidates.
Mr. Townley has through all these years sought to inspire his followers with the determination to "stick." Not all of them have stuck, but those who did stick did so pretty thoroughly. Here we see the effect of discipline and habit. The Independent forces have not been so well trained. And because of this reaction to discipline the leaguers are now confronted with the situation that the independent candidates whose election they sought to prevent, will have charge of the administration, while the measures by which it was sought to limit the power of the state officials went by the board and the powers of the incoming administration will be as nearly unlimited as are those of the men who are to retire.
Inasmuch as Messrs. Nettes, Johnson and Kitchen are elected, wouldn't some of those who voted "no" on the proposed laws like to reconsider their votes on that ballot?
The constitutional amendment proposed had as one of its main purposes the limitation of the authority of the state administration to issue bonds. That measure fixed the total limit of indebtedness, prescribed the purposes for which bonds might be issued, and prohibited the issuance of further bonds without further permission direct from the people. That measure is defeated, and the coming administration will have the same powers to issue bonds at will, and for any purpose, that have been held by the present administration.
One of the initiated laws made provision for the deposit of public funds by taxing bodies. So far as municipalities are concerned the defeat of this measure will not affect the administration at all. Under the law as it stands, municipalities are not required to deposit with the Bank of North Dakota. The people attended to that matter last fall. But it is held that the municipalities are left without specific instructions as to what they are to do with their money, and those who have defeated the law will find their county, school and other treasurers doing some guessing on that subject.
The initiated law providing for the liquidation of the Bank of North Dakota failed. Consequently the bank will continue to exist on such terms as the new administration may think most advantageous for the state. But so far as authority goes, the new officials will have the right to sell bonds right and left for the purposes of this bank, and to spread themselves all over creation, as the present officials have tried to do. They may transfer funds from one account to another, and may exercise powers as nearly unlimited as can be imagined.
Another law sought to provide specifically for the creation of a rural credits bank. The voters would not have it so, and what may be done in this direction will be entirely at the discretion of the new people.
As the law stands, the industrial commission is the government of the state, so far as its industrial and financial relations are concerned. Its powers are vested in three men, and are almost without limit. These three men are empowered to buy or build and operate elevators, mills, packing plants, creameries, and anything else that may appeal to their fancy. They may establish markets and branches here or in any other state or country. If they choose to put a line of stations on the Atlantic and to maintain offices and distributing organizations in all the European capitals, there is nothing in the law to prevent them. The governor is the head of the commission, and under the terms of the law, he is practically the dictator in its activities. A good many people thought that the power of the commission was too great, that the governor's position was too autocratic, and that it would be better to have a commission restricted to a single enterprise, with its personnel separated entirely from the political administration of the state. A bill incorporating these features was proposed by initiative, and the well-drilled supporters of the administration voted against it and a lot of the other peonations are fastened on this meeting and its outcome. We want no more secret conferences; we want everything clear and above board; we want to know who are truly seeking peace, and who are dodging the issues; in short we want to know which nations really wish peace, and which do not; then, we will know how to act.

Divided by factions, hate and jealousy, the little countries of Europe and those representing their interests will have to go a long way to end this internal strife. But, if they once see that this is the only way by which they can live, and if the larger nations are firm, I believe they can be brought to see that their hope lies in universal peace.
There will be many problems met and solved before we can rest assured that at last our hopes have been attained; there will be jealousies to overcome and suspicions to quiet. There will be many things to settle, and the only way we can attain universal peace is for each nation to give and take. The spirit of intolerance must not be permitted to gain a hold at this great conference; all must work for the common good, and not for the good of a few.
Right here, we should say to the politicians of all countries: "Halt! Off." Once let politics enter the meeting, and we might as well give up at once. Politics can cause more disturbance and bitterness in a given time than anything else. Politics must be discussed at this conference—never! On the whole, conditions seem to favor this conference at this time. The common people are tired and sick of war as never before, and the different countries are so near bankruptcy that even the most hardened politician sees something must be done.
If each country will only remember to bear and forbear, and if the spirit of brotherly love rules, we see no reason why our hopes of universal peace should not be fulfilled. However, if there is so much difference of opinion, and the conference threatens to end disastrously, then the great mass of common people must rise and speak out in the cause of justice. Unless they do this, the conference, instead of bringing universal peace will have been the harbinger of more cruel and bitter wars.

EFFICIENCY IN TEACHING.
Burnstad, N. D.
Editor Tribune:
When thinking of teaching we must say there is a technique to teaching; a technique of the management of the school room, keeping order, of asking questions, even of giving out assignments, lessons, and so forth, is just as much a part of the art of teaching as the particular technique of the artist, but over and above that is the need for that sense of the purpose and meaning of it and the results in sympathy with a development of the life of the children. What is going on not in the more outward motions, in the things that they do, and what is going on in their feelings, their imagination, what effect the schoolroom has on the permanent disposition, the side of their emotions and imagination, without which the teacher can not be an artist, no matter how complete and adequate the teacher's command is of teaching or the technique of teaching, that is, of the various forms of outward skill which are necessary to make the successful teacher.
The teacher as an artist needs to be one who is engaged in getting the pupils as much as possible into the attitude of the artist in their relations of life, that is, to solve what is after all the great problem, the moral, the intellectual problem of everyone, to get habits of efficient action, so that the person won't be a mere day-dreamer or theorist, or a wasteful or incompetent person, but to get that unit with certain affections and with power to carry out intellectual plans. That can be got only when the pupils from the first day as we give to their forming these good outward habits. That can be got only when we give as much attention to the thinking side of the life of the pupils from the first day as we give to their forming these good outward habits. For this reason it seems to me that so far as the teaching is concerned the great problem of the teacher is the problem of keeping a balance between these two factors of efficiency in action and insight and foresight, ability to have the purpose to perform plans in thought.
E. J. CARMICHAEL.

PEOPLES' FORUM
THE BATTLE CALL OF PEACE
Editor Tribune:
All over the world is sounding a new battle cry—the battle call of peace. Great men and women of all nations are gathering to discuss disarmament.
And, what a grand and glorious thing it is, that on the day that the great world war ceased, just three years from the first Armistice Day, should be held the great disarmament conference.
The great men who led our troops and those of our brave allies to the final victory, are once more leading the nations—but not to war—let us hope to a great and lasting peace.
And, you brave heroic soldiers, you who made victory possible are at last to reap the reward for which you so freely offered up your brave young lives. You went to war to end all wars, and to bring world-wide democracy to the earth. You went to war that all nations might have universal peace, and, at last your hopes are to be realized. But, if we are to have a true and lasting peace, we must be willing to make sacrifices, and demand other countries do likewise; we can never attain peace while we are arming ourselves as never before. We can never hope to end war while we are turning more and more toward militarism.
An armed nation is to be feared, and courts disaster. If we would have friends, we must prove ourselves friendly. Likewise, if we wish to end war, we must show the other nations that we are friendly, and have no ulterior motives toward them. How can we do this while we are armed to the teeth? Will they not believe our overtures of friendship are mere pretences? Will they not feel that we are looking toward conquest, and our talk of disarmament is merely a blind by which we hope to fool other nations as to our real purposes? Let those who have been chosen to represent their countries at this important conference remember this: The eyes of the world are looking toward them to abolish that dread thing war. The hopes of all people of all

ADVENTURE OF THE TWINS
By Olive Barton Roberts
"Goodness!" cried Nancy looking this way and that way and every-where, which-way under the water for the gadabout wives. "Where can they be, Nick?"
"Well," answered Nick, "wherever they are, they must all be together. Whatever is keeping one, must be keeping them all."
Suddenly Nancy said, "Listen!" and held up a warning finger. Nick heard something, too. So they slipped off quietly through the water in their Green Shoes toward the place the sounds were coming from. Such a sight met their eyes! And such a noise met their ears! It was worse than a meeting of the "Tuesday Ladies' Club." Mrs. Corbwing was saying, "Yes, but the fashion is to be thin and supple and wear tight-fitting clothes like mine. Also sequins (fish-scales) are all out of style! And pale yellow is the shade for this season, so I'm the most fashionable. You'd better vote for me!"
"Humph!" cried Mrs. Two-Spot Goby. "One color! Why, I'm four colors. And look at the lovely spots I've got! Two on each side. No, you'd better vote for me!"
"Spots!" interrupted Mrs. Wrasse, or Mrs. Rock-Fish, which she preferred on her calling cards. "Why, I'm polka-dotted with them. Just look! And I'm striped, too, as well as being every color. You'd better vote for me!"
"Oh, but you're blind. You can scarcely see," said Mrs. Blenny, turning up her nose. "No, as I have the best sense and can stand up for my rights, I'd make the best president. Besides, I can turn my eyes in different directions at once, and can see everything."
Wasn't it the limit?

EIGHT ENTER IN THE MAYORALTY CONTEST IN N. Y.

New York, Nov. 8.—New York's mayoralty campaign came to a whirlwind close yesterday. Today more than 1,200,000 voters will have the opportunity of going to the polls and casting their votes for one of eight candidates for mayor and other municipal officers.

The candidates for mayor are Mayor John P. Hyland, Democrat, who seeks re-election; Major Henry H. Curran, Republican; Magistrate Jacob Panken, Socialist; Jerome D. Hunt, Farmer-Labor; George K. Hands, Prohibition; John P. Quinn, Socialist-Labor; Joseph D. Miller, Single Tax; and Benjamin (Hill) Workers League (Communists).

Gibson's name was ordered stricken from the ballot because he is serving a sentence in Sing Sing prison for anarchy. Officials of the Communist party, however, said his name would be written in the ballot.

In addition to city officers, 66 assemblymen are to be chosen to represent the city in the state legislature and a special election will be held in the sixteenth state senatorial district, to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Senator Martin McGuire.

Several proposed amendments to the state constitution are to be acted upon. The most important of these is the proposal to give former soldiers preference in civil service positions.

The main battle, all observers agree will be between Mayor Hyland and Major Curran. Both have conducted vigorous campaigns, in which the latter has been passed frequently.

The Mayor has charged his opponent with representing the "plunderbund," the interests and "the traction crowd." In denial, Major Curran has accused the Mayor of gross inefficiency.

Of all the many issues, the subject most talked about has been the five-cent fare on the traction lines. Mayor Hyland has claimed he prevented the fare from being raised. Major Curran, asserting that he too is for the nickel fare, has charged that the fare question isn't an issue—that it is a smokescreen used by the Mayor to cover up maladministration.

Mayor Hyland's admirers have used the slogan "Honest John He is Fighting For You." He was elected chief executive four years ago on a Tammany Hall tidal wave. He received 212,774 votes, as against 157,376 for the late Mayor John Purroy Mitchell, running on a Fusion ticket; 144,973 for Morris Hillquit, Socialist; and 37,239 for W. M. Bennett, Republican.

The Mayor was born on a farm in Green county, New York, in 1868. Orphaned in early childhood, he worked on the farm and then came to New York, where he was employed as an engineer on the elevated railroad. He studied law nights and received his degree from the New York Law School in 1897. He became a member of Tammany Hall, was elected a municipal judge in 1905, a city magistrate two years later and became a judge of the Kings county court in 1915. He was practically unknown to the general electorate when he was nominated for mayor four years ago.

Major Curran was born in New York in 1877. He was captain of his high school football team. At the age of 15 he was a reporter on the Englewood, N. J. Times. He worked his way through Yale University as a clock and waiter. After graduation he was a reporter on the New York Tribune and studied law when he had spare time. He was admitted to the bar in 1901. He entered politics in 1911 when he was elected an alderman and served a number of terms, attracting attention as an expert financial analyst.

He was appointed a city magistrate but held his position only two months, resigning to enter the Plattsburgh camp when the war broke out. He was commissioned a major, assigned to the 17th Division and saw active service on the Vesle river and in the Argonne Forest. After the war he was elected President of the Borough of Manhattan.

The other candidates for mayor have conducted quiet campaigns, the Socialists being the most active.

WHY STAGG AND WILCE ARE GREAT

Not Stopping With Wonder Team ; Always Build Toward Future

(By Roy Grove)
Year in and year out Ohio State and Chicago have been the most consistent contenders for the title of any of the teams of the Big Ten Conference.

And this, despite the fact that coaches at the two schools are opposites. Wilce at Ohio State is a cox of the modern school. Stagg at Chicago is a mentor of the old football school, who has been on the coaching lines for years, but who, unlike many of the older coaches at the big schools, has kept pace with the changes in the gridiron game.

Both Wilce and Stagg owe their success in the main to one thing—they work constantly for the future. Too many of the present-day mentors are satisfied, after building up a spunky team, to ride along on the glory of the showing of that flashy team wins them. And then, in a year or two, the stars leave school and the team goes into a slump for the next couple of seasons.

Watch Second String. Not so Wilce and Stagg. No matter how great an aggregation of pigskin pushers they may turn out, you'll always find this pair paying just as much if not more attention to the second string men. For it is from the ranks of these that the future greats will arise.

Stagg for years has centered his attention on developing great quarterbacks. His belief is, a star field marshal can get a No. 1 result from even a mediocre team. That belief was shared by Napoleon, you remember, for the great French leader made the crack that the size of the army didn't make so much difference as long as the leader was always with it.

Walter Eckersall, Steffen and Pomeroy, the quarters of Chicago's present team, are only a few of the field marshals that Stagg has developed to lead his team. And the result of his work is shown by the fact that both Eckersall and Steffen made the All-American with Stagg. It was Pomeroy who scored all the points in the 9 to 0 defeat of Princeton by Chicago. He carried the ball over for a touchdown and kicked a field goal.

Around the Big Ten Conference a sign of relief went up when Pomeroy and Stagg left Ohio State. Other teams breathed easier with the star halfback out of the way. For Stagg up to that time had shown nothing that appeared classy enough to take the All-American star's place.

But they might have saved their breath. For Wilce, with his customary caution, had an ace up his sleeve.

The loss of Stagg and Chick Harley before him was nothing more than Wilce had expected and he had looked to the future for this ever since he first taught them to roll around on the field.

He readily supplanted them with Noel Workman and Johnny Stuart, two boys he had been grooming while Harley and Stagg had been starring. It was the great work of these two boys who put over the defeat of Michigan. Stuart doing the thing they had been warned about, a long end run for a touchdown.

GOING IT TOO HARD?
Overwork, worry overeating and lack of exercise and sleep are responsible for much kidney trouble. If your back aches and the kidneys seem weak, rest up and use Doan's Kidney Pills.

Chas. L. Pearce, farmer, 320 2nd St., Bismarck, says "I have used Doan's Kidney Pills on different occasions when suffering from disordered kidneys and they have always done me good. I have followed the state mason's trade and it is mighty hard on the kidneys. For a time I was so lame I could hardly stop down to get a bucket of water. I knew my kidneys require attention so got a box of Doan's Kidney Pills at Cowan's Drug Store and used them until my trouble disappeared entirely. Whenever I have needed Doan's since, they have always brought the same good results. I have frequently recommended Doan's Kidney Pills to all dealers. Foster-McMillan Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y."

According to the Department of Commerce figures, sales through farmer marketing organizations amounted to practically 722 millions dollars. The actual figures are $721,983,693. Purchases through farmer cooperative organizations in the same year amounted to $84,617,663. Nebraska and Kansas are the leaders of all states in the union in cooperative purchasing.

The articles marketed by cooperative were grain, milk, cream, fruits and truck crops. The articles purchased were fertilizer, feed, building materials, spraying materials, coal, crates, boxes, etc.

LOWA CAPTAIN, FANS' IDOL, WORKS WAY THROUGH SCHOOL
By N. E. A. Service.
Ames, Ia., Nov. 8.—An Iowa lad from Oklahoma has been getting the big share of credit for the mid-west in football the last two years. This comes from the fact that he is not only an outstanding football player but that he is an all-around college man, a student, a leader in campus activities, and above all, a man who is well liked by his team mates because he is a clean, hard fighter.

Polly Wallace, who took Missouri Valley conference honors last fall as a center, then made Eckersall's All Western mythical eleven as a center and to cap the list was placed in Eckersall's All-American eleven in the same capacity, is captain of the Iowa State football team this fall at Ames, Iowa. His playing early this season was a wonder to spectators of the games in which he participated.

"Roving" Center
Wallace has been termed a roving center. He has been described as having an uncanny sense of seeing where a play was going, and being there to stop it.

To show the strength of Wallace ability to put right into the Cyclones, it can be pointed out that his team has lost the last three games in the valley race because it may be safely said, Wallace was not in that game enough to carry his team through for a victory and to hold them until the game was over.

STRONG RED CROSS PROGRAM IN NO. DAKOTA

Great Community Endeavor in Public Health Nursing, and for Ex-Soldiers Shown.

The 40,058 members of the Red Cross in North Dakota are bringing the many departments of Red Cross activity to the state to the people in the rural communities as well as the cities. Since the present program of the organization is especially well adapted to sparsely settled communities, it is meeting a constantly increasing need.

During the past year a total of 3,721 ex-service men have been served by the 53 chapters here in North Dakota. Many of these men had families whose problems of living while their breadwinners were undergoing hospital treatment or vocational training required the attention and help of a trained worker.

That a total of $28,000 was expended by chapters in this state for work among ex-service men this year shows the extent and need for this service.

In addition to this soldier work a strong nursing program has been presented in various parts of the state. Classes in Home Hygiene to the number of 235 were held by Red Cross instructors and Public Health nurses during the past year. There are 288 Red Cross nurses enrolled from the state. Within the past year 92 Public Health nurses have been employed by chapters.

One of the important phases of Red Cross work has been the aid extended drought sufferers in the sections of the state where the need has been great. Funds from national headquarters have been used in addition to those of the local chapters in carrying on this work.

While this has been confined to the communities where drought has prevailed, the good work which the Red Cross has accomplished has been appreciated throughout the state. While crops have proved abundant in several of these localities there is still some work to be accomplished.

The strong health program of the Red Cross through its stimulation of classes in First Aid, Nutrition, Life Saving, as well as Home Nursing, is proving a valuable health guide. Prevention of illness, contagion and accidents has a place in every community. This instruction is among the many projects which the Red Cross hopes to expand in North Dakota.

To this end, the fifth annual Roll gives every person an opportunity to renew Red Cross membership for the coming year. This will enable each of the 33 chapters to discharge their community obligations and expand their service. Every membership dollar is an investment in community welfare work as well as relief activities locally and nationally.

That the boys and girls of today, who are to be the men and women of tomorrow, are learning the value of good citizenship, not only in their own communities but throughout the world, is shown by the 47,752 members enrolled in the 1,308 Junior auxiliaries of the American Red Cross in this state.

Juniors have proved their value to the community in numerous ways here in North Dakota. They have been especially helpful in assisting children from families unable to provide medical care and treatment. In Dickinson, the Juniors paid the expenses of a little crippled girl in the Michael Dowling School for Crippled Children, in Minneapolis. In addition, they wrote, sent her small gifts, and helped to keep her from becoming homesick.

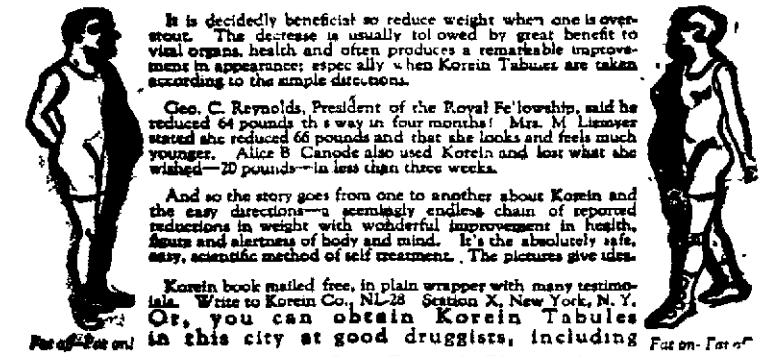

In Grifton an auto was provided for the school nurse from Junior funds, thus enabling her to carry on more work, and reach every part of the county. The salary of the school nurse has been met by Juniors in several other places. Classes in Home Hygiene and Care of the Sick and First Aid were financed in Lisbon.

To continue this work and increase its scope, as well as the many other vital community services which Red Cross chapters are rendering locally is one of the objectives of the Annual Roll Call, which opens on Armistice Day, November 11, and continues until Thanksgiving.

He Lost 65 Pounds—She Got Thinner; Both Look Much Better!

It is decidedly beneficial to reduce weight when one is over-weight. The process is usually attended by great benefit to vital organs, health and often produces a remarkable improvement in appearance, especially when Korrin Tablets are taken according to the simple directions.

Geo. C. Reynolds, President of the Royal Fellowship, said he reduced 64 pounds in a way in four months! Mrs. M. Lawson stated she reduced 66 pounds and that the looks and feels much younger. Alice B. Canale also used Korrin and lost what she weighed—22 pounds—in less than three weeks.

And so the story goes from one to another about Korrin and the easy, pleasant, seemingly endless chain of reports of reductions in weight with wonderful improvement in health, energy and alertness of body and mind. It's the absolutely safe, easy, scientific method of self-treatment. The pictures give ideas.

Korrin book mailed free, in plain wrapper with many testimonials. Write to Korrin Co., 10123 Madison Ave., New York, N. Y. Or, you can obtain Korrin Tablets in this city at good druggists, including J. Breslow and Burt Finney's Pharmacies.

UNITED STATES GOLD HOLDINGS STILL CLIMBING

New York, Nov. 8.—Gold holdings of the United States, the world's sole creditor nation, mounted to a new high record last month, approximately the stupendous sum of $3,500,000,000. Statisticians estimate this to be 35 to 50 per cent of the world's visible supply.

Of this amount the twelve Federal Reserve banks hold a total of about $300,000,000, the bulk of which reposes in the vaults of the local institution.

Metal which has been pouring into this country ever since the close of the war has averaged $75,000,000 monthly this year.

Some of the gold bears the stamp of nations born after the European cataclysm and some of the minted metal is almost as rare and strange to the average observer as an old time Spanish doubloon.

Part of the gold sent here by Germany to meet reparations payments to the Allies was said to be French coin (Louis D'or), extracted by Germany from France as indemnity after the Franco-Prussian war in 1870.

The amount of gold now held by the local assay office was disclosed, but the machinery of that institution has been taxed to capacity recently reducing foreign bullion to requisite fineness for the domestic market. Bars valued at many millions of dollars have been turned from this city to the Philadelphia mint in the last few months to be made into coin.

The many national and state banks of this city, together with affiliated trust companies, the New York Clear ing House and almost countless private money changers and dealers in coin and bullion probably hold at this time a total of between $1,000,000,000 and $1,250,000,000.
